

Itching to Climb: Mountaineer Explorer Pilot

By Barbara James

Baton Wicks Publications, United Kingdom, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 2nd Revised edition. 216 x 138 mm. Language: N/A. Brand New Book. Inherited eczema and allergies made Barbara James different from her classmates, something she did not like. She was lucky. The severity of her eczema had lessened when her teacher introduced her to the Snowdonia hills. In 1964 she became a full time mountaineering instructor and mountain rescue first aider in Capel Curig at a time when there were few females instructing or leading difficult rock routes. Divorced in 1976 and with a mortgage to pay, Barbara needed a job, and became the first and possibly the only woman civilian to be employed by MOD to train soldiers. At the Infantry Junior Leaders Battalion in Folkestone she learned another language, new codes of behaviour, and to lead expeditions. After early retirement, Barbara took her first holiday in 11 years. She was probably the second person to go, unaccompanied, to the magical Falkland Islands soon after the conflict. Alone she walked up Tumbledown, communed with wild life and was told that Anyone can learn to fly . So on return, her 50th birthday present to herself was to get a...

READ ONLINE
[1.76 MB]

Reviews

Unquestionably, this is the greatest job by any author. It really is simplistic but shocks inside the fifty percent in the book. I am just pleased to inform you that here is the greatest book i actually have go through within my own existence and could be he greatest ebook for at any time.

-- Elva Kemmer

It in one of the best book. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. You wont feel monotony at at any moment of the time (that's what catalogues are for regarding in the event you check with me).

-- Dr. Kristin Dickens